Agenda Item 7 – Report on statistics of ineligibility determinations due to unaccredited clerkships for graduates of Ross Medical School. Ms. Johnston reported that since September 1, 2014 the Board has received 261 licensure applications from Ross Medical School graduates. Of those 261 applicants 26 have been determined ineligible for licensure due to unapproved clinical clerkships. Ms. Johnston also reported that the Board has licensed 63 graduates of Ross Medical since September 1, 2015 and of that group all but four applicants were board certified, so clerkships were not a factor in their eligibility. The remaining applicants have pending or expired applications.

Agenda Item 8 - Discussion, recommendation, and possible action regarding the substantial equivalence of Ross Medical School. Mr. Freshour and Ms. Johnston presented the curriculum of Ross Medical School, which has included a course titled Advanced Intro to Clinical Medicine. In the past Ross graduates had taken this course in the United States, requiring compliance with Board rule and statute related to courses performed in the United States by foreign medical school graduates. Recently staff has discovered Ross Medical School Graduates who have completed the Advanced Intro to Clinical Medicine on the island of Dominica where Ross is located. Board staff requested direction from the Committee as to whether a course that has never been accepted when performed in the United States would be considered acceptable as part of medical education if performed in the country where the medical school was located. The Committee directed Board staff to research the issue further and to present the findings at the following Board meeting.

Agenda Item 9 - Discussion, recommendation, and possible action regarding specialty certification boards using web monitoring to proctor certification exams. At the June 11, 2015 Licensure Committee meeting it was presented to the Board that the American Board of Pediatrics inquired about using web monitoring to proctor their recertification exams and whether this would meet Board rule regarding monitoring. Ms. Johnston presented the research done by Board staff and according to information provided by the American Board of Medical Specialties (ABMS) only three member boards are currently piloting remote proctoring of their current recertification examinations. The remaining 21 boards do not have plans to use remote proctoring anytime in the near future. The Committee directed Board staff to continue with the current requirements regarding monitored/proctored exams and to not accept web monitored certification exams for licensure purposes.

Mr. Denton asked that the issue of accredited educational programs for surgical assistants be revisited, specifically in terms of possible remedies for programs that lose accreditation during an applicant's attendance. Mr. Denton stated that he understood current staff resources did not allow for research into the issue at this time, but wished to discuss it as an agenda item in the future.

Agenda Item 10 - There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned at 1:37 p.m.
